ACHC and HCAOA Continue Partnership to Support Home Care Providers

Cary, NC – Accreditation Commission for Health Care (ACHC) announces the renewal of its partnership with Home Care Association of America (HCAOA), the nation's first association for providers of home care.

"The renewal of our partnership with HCAOA allows our organizations to continue working together to provide the educational resources home care providers need during this difficult time," said Barb Provini, ACHC Program Manager. "HCAOA represents home care companies that employ more than half a million workers. We share a mutual goal of providing the tools necessary to advance safe practices and quality care for patients."

The collaboration allows HCAOA and ACHC to deliver the best resources to home care agencies, organizations, and individual professionals. HCAOA members remain eligible for special pricing on ACHC Accreditation, as well as discounts on educational workshops and workbooks that can help them prepare for accreditation.

Founded in 2002, the Home Care Association of America is one of the industry's leading trade associations. HCAOA was founded on the principle that quality home care has one model of care. That model is to employ, train, monitor, and supervise caregivers, create a plan of care for the client, and work toward a safe and secure environment for the person at home. HCAOA works to provide leadership, representation, and education for the advancement of home care and a strong unified voice to speak to the issues of concern within the home care industry. For more information, visit www.hcaoa.org.

As a nationally recognized accreditor, ACHC offers a broad suite of home care compliance solutions, including accreditation for Home Health Aide, Skilled Nursing, Hospice Care, Hospice Inpatient Care, Private Duty Nursing, Private Duty Aide, and Home Infusion Therapy Supplier services. ACHC has CMS deeming authority for Home Health, Hospice, Home Infusion Therapy, Renal Dialysis, and DMEPOS.

With over 30 years of experience promoting safe, quality patient care, ACHC is known for providing value, integrity, and the industry's best customer service. ACHC's flexible, educational approach gives providers options tailored to fit their needs. Providers receive assistance throughout the accreditation process and have access to personal Account Advisors, clinical and regulatory support, and program-specific educational resources. With no annual fees, ACHC offers cost-effective, competitive pricing to help providers achieve their accreditation goals.
