ACHC and MHHA Promote Quality Home Care and Hospice Patient Care

Cary, NC – Accreditation Commission for Health Care (ACHC) announces the renewal of its partnership with Michigan HomeCare & Hospice Association (MHHA), a state trade association that acts as a unified voice, principal resource, and advocate for the success of its member organizations.

"We are excited to renew our partnership with the Michigan HomeCare & Hospice Association," said ACHC Business Development Manager Ryan Ragan. "For almost 40 years, MHHA has educated, advocated, and supported home health and hospice agencies in Michigan. Now with the moratorium being lifted and the COVID-19 impact, MHHA is more important to agencies than ever before."

The partnership renewal allows MHHA and ACHC to continue working together to ensure home health, hospice, private duty, DMEPOS, and infusion organizations throughout Michigan have access to the resources they need to provide the highest quality patient care. MHHA members are eligible for special pricing on ACHC Accreditation, as well as discounts on educational resources that help providers prepare for accreditation.

"Accreditation is important for Michigan home care and hospice agencies choosing to demonstrate best practice standards for quality patient and client care," said Barry Cargill, MHHA President and CEO. "ACHC's partnership with the Michigan HomeCare & Hospice Association is so important to agency strategies for achieving high standards and to convey a sustainable positive image that will shine brightly in a very competitive home care and hospice environment."

Established in 1981, MHHA is a state trade association representing more than 300 members from the home care and hospice industry. MHHA is the primary provider of home health education in Michigan and supports and promotes cost-saving projects and industry research. The association also promotes understanding, cooperation, and communication among home health care providers and serves as a liaison with other organizations at local, state and national levels. For more information, visit www.mhha.org.

As a nationally recognized accreditor, ACHC offers a broad suite of home care compliance solutions, including accreditation programs for Home Health Aide, Skilled Nursing, Hospice Care, Hospice Inpatient Care, Private Duty Nursing, Private Duty Aide, and Home Infusion Therapy Supplier services. ACHC has CMS deeming authority for Home Health, Hospice, Home Infusion Therapy, Renal Dialysis, and DMEPOS.

ACHC has over 30 years of experience promoting safe, quality patient care and is known for providing value, integrity, and the industry's best customer service. ACHC's flexible, educational approach gives providers options tailored to fit their needs. Providers receive assistance throughout the accreditation process and have access to personal Account Advisors, clinical and regulatory support, and program-specific educational resources. With no annual fees, ACHC offers cost-effective, competitive pricing to help providers achieve their accreditation goals.
