ACHC and Maryland-National Capital Homecare Association form Partnership

Cary, NC- Accreditation Commission for Health Care (ACHC) is excited to announce its new partnership with the Maryland-National Capital Homecare Association (MNCHA). This agreement allows MNCHA members to receive special pricing on ACHC's Home Health, Hospice, and Private Duty Accreditation services, as well as discounts on Accreditation University (AU) educational resources that help prepare association members for ACHC Accreditation.

"ACHC is very excited to partner with such a great organization that cares so much about bringing education and value to their members," said Matt Hughes, ACHC Director, Business Management & Customer Service. "We look forward to working with MNCHA to provide resources for their members to navigate the ever-changing dynamics of the home care market."

The Maryland-National Capital Homecare Association is the trade association for the home care sector in Maryland. They represent both non-profit and for-profit health care providers in Maryland and D.C. including Medicare-certified home health agencies, private duty agencies, home medical equipment businesses and related businesses that provide services to these providers. Membership in MNCHA brings home care providers a unique opportunity to collaborate, learn through peer-to-peer sessions, attend discounted expert trainings, and have access to Federal regulatory and legislative information. To learn more, visit mncha.org.

"MNCHA is excited to partner with ACHC in order to offer an affordable, quality accreditation option to all of its homecare providers," said Dawn Seek, Executive Director, MNCHA.

ACHC is a non-profit accreditation organization that has stood as a symbol of quality and excellence for 30 years. ACHC offers nationally recognized accreditation services for home health, hospice, and private duty agencies. The organization has Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services (CMS) Deeming Authority for Home Health, Hospice, and Durable Medical Equipment, Prosthetics, Orthotics, and Supplies (DMEPOS), and a Quality Management System that is certified to ISO 9001:2008. ACHC's consultative approach to accreditation is designed to improve the quality of patient care while enhancing business efficiencies through service-specific standards and industry-based best practices. Throughout the entire accreditation process, ACHC is dedicated to delivering the best possible experience.
