ACHC and VAHC Share Efforts to Support Home Care Providers

Cary, NC – Accreditation Commission for Health Care (ACHC) announces the renewal of its partnership with Virginia Association for Home Care and Hospice (VAHC), a state organization that represents the interests of the home care industry through advocacy, education, and guidance with a commitment to quality.

"VAHC is exactly the type of organization ACHC wants to be associated with," said ACHC Business Development Manager Ryan Ragan. "Their work advocating for patients and providers for over 35 years speaks to how respected they are in this industry."

The partnership renewal allows VAHC and ACHC to continue working together to deliver the best resources to Virginia home care and hospice agencies, organizations, and individual professionals. VAHC members are eligible for special pricing on ACHC Accreditation for home health, hospice, private duty, and home infusion therapy services, as well as discounts on educational workshops and workbooks that can help them prepare for accreditation.

Established in 1983, VAHC provides its members the tools and resources needed to work with their local, state, and federal representatives on issues important to them, such as regulations, voting rights, and back reimbursement related to the way they run their businesses. For more information, visit www.vahc.org.

As a nationally recognized accreditor, ACHC offers a broad suite of home care compliance solutions, including accreditation programs for Home Health Aide, Skilled Nursing, Hospice Care, Hospice Inpatient Care, Private Duty Nursing, Private Duty Aide, and Home Infusion Therapy Supplier services. ACHC has CMS deeming authority for Home Health, Hospice, Home Infusion Therapy, Renal Dialysis, and DMEPOS.

With over 30 years of experience promoting safe, quality patient care, ACHC is known for providing value, integrity, and the industry's best customer service. ACHC's flexible, educational approach gives providers options tailored to fit their needs. Providers receive assistance throughout the accreditation process and have access to personal Account Advisors, clinical and regulatory support, and program-specific educational resources. With no annual fees, ACHC offers cost-effective, competitive pricing to help providers achieve their accreditation goals.
