ACHC and CAHSAH Renew Support of Home Care Providers

Cary, NC – Accreditation Commission for Health Care (ACHC) announces the renewal of its partnership with California Association for Health Services at Home (CAHSAH), a nonprofit association that represents home care providers as an integral part of the health care system. Founded in 1966, CAHSAH is one of the oldest and largest state home care associations with a long tradition of promoting quality home care and enhancing the effectiveness of the home care industry.

"CAHSAH and ACHC are committed to ensuring everyone has access to the highest quality care," said Susan Mills, ACHC Senior Program Director. "Our partnership allows CAHSAH members to demonstrate their dedication to enhancing quality of care and patient safety by promoting and supporting accreditation. This is especially important as regulatory and payor requirements continue to evolve."

The partnership renewal allows CAHSAH and ACHC to continue working together to deliver the best resources to California home care agencies, organizations, and individual professionals. CAHSAH members are eligible for special pricing on ACHC Accreditation for home health, hospice, private duty, and home infusion therapy services, as well as discounts on educational workshops and workbooks that can help them prepare for accreditation.

As a leading industry advocate, CAHSAH works to ensure patients receive the highest level of care and are treated with dignity and respect. The association started with a small group of home care agencies and has grown exponentially across California. CAHSAH provides value, resources, and partnership for providers and strives to advance industry standards by advocating for ethical, compassionate, and quality home-based care. Members receive access to a range of educational resources and expert advice on regulatory and procedural concerns. For more information, visit <https://cahsah.org>.

Accreditation leader ACHC is a nonprofit with 35 years of experience promoting safe, quality patient care. ACHC develops solutions trusted by healthcare providers nationwide and is committed to offering exceptional, personalized service, and a customized, collaborative accreditation experience tailored to individual needs. ACHC focuses on giving providers a positive, educational experience that continually enhances quality of care and business efficiencies. As a national accreditor, ACHC has CMS deeming authority for home health, hospice, home infusion therapy, renal dialysis, and DMEPOS services as well as laboratory, hospitals, and ambulatory surgery centers.
