ACHC and CPS Renew Efforts to Support Hospital Pharmacies

CARY, N.C. – Accreditation Commission for Health Care (ACHC) announced today it is renewing its collaborative agreement with CPS Solutions, LLC (CPS), a leading national provider of hospital and health system solutions, and its specialty pharmacy division, Azina.

“ACHC, CPS, and Azina remain dedicated to advancing excellence in specialty pharmacy operations for hospitals and health systems,” said Dr. Jon Pritchett, ACHC Program Director. “Our collaboration reflects a shared commitment to quality and improved patient outcomes.”

“At Azina, a division of CPS, we work to empower specialty pharmacy excellence with holistic solutions for our customers across all their pharmacy needs,” said Keith Cook, President of Azina. “This partnership helps our customers build best-in-class pharmacies and position them for long-term success.”

The continued collaboration gives Azina clients preferred pricing on ACHC Pharmacy Accreditation, including discounts on accreditation for Specialty Pharmacy, Compounding Pharmacy (PCAB), Community Retail, Ambulatory Infusion Center, Infusion Nursing, and Infusion Pharmacy services.

Discounts are also available on resources offered by ACHCU, the educational division of ACHC.

About CPS and Azina

Founded more than 50 years ago, CPS empowers healthcare organizations to advance the standard of care through a range of value-added solutions. CPS builds partnerships that position healthcare leaders and teams to drive financial, operational, clinical, and regulatory performance excellence.

Azina is the specialty pharmacy division of CPS and focuses on driving lower costs, new sources of revenue, better outcomes, and healthier patients for hospitals and health systems.
