Dr. Gerald A. Maccioli Elected to NASP Board of Directors

CARY, N.C. (September 7, 2022) – Gerald A. Maccioli, MD, MBA, FCCM, FASA, Vice President of Medical Affairs for the Accreditation Commission for Health Care (ACHC), has been elected to the Board of Directors of the National Association of Specialty Pharmacy (NASP). Maccioli will be introduced and welcomed at the NASP 2022 Annual Meeting & Expo and officially installed at its 2022 Q3/Q4 board meeting in the fall.

“I am truly honored to join the NASP board and help this important organization continue its essential mission to improve and promote the practice of specialty pharmacy,” said Maccioli.

The mission of the NASP is to elevate the practice of specialty pharmacy by developing, delivering and promoting continuing professional education and specialty certification while advocating for public policies that ensure patients have appropriate access to specialty medications in tandem with critical services.

“We appreciate Dr. Maccioli’s unwavering commitment and dedication to help shape the future of not only the NASP but also the specialty pharmacy industry and express our sincere gratitude for his willingness to share his time, energy and talents with us,” said Sheila M. Arquette, RPH, President & CEO of NASP.

Dr. Maccioli brings extensive experience in quality improvement across a range of health care settings. As Vice President of Medical Affairs for the Accreditation Commission for Health Care (ACHC), a nonprofit accreditation organization committed to offering exceptional service and a collaborative accreditation experience, Maccioli develops meaningful integration across ACHC clinical programs to ensure accredited organizations foster sound medical practices, achieve quality outcomes, and meet operational objectives.

His educational credentials include fellowship training in cardiothoracic anesthesiology and critical care medicine at Duke University following a residency at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill and an internal medicine internship at the University of Oklahoma. He continued his education at Auburn University’s Raymond J. Harbert College of Business, earning a master’s in business administration.

Dr. Maccioli also has served as director of the American Society of Anesthesiologists for North Carolina, president of the Society of Critical Care Anesthesiologists, and chair of the ASA Section on Education and Research. Dr. Maccioli has contributed and written more than 50 clinical papers, abstracts, editorials, and book chapters and has been invited to speak at over 70 state and national meetings on diverse topics.
