ACHC Partners with Clearway Health

CARY, N.C. – Leading accreditor Accreditation Commission for Health Care (ACHC) announced today it is partnering with Clearway Health, a specialty pharmacy services company that partners with hospitals and health systems to enhance specialty pharmacy programs, elevate care access, and support medication management efforts.

“Both ACHC and Clearway Health are committed to advancing the role hospital and health system pharmacies play in their communities,” said Matt Hughes, ACHC Vice President of Community Care. “This partnership strengthens our shared focus of prioritizing the patient, optimizing pharmacy operations, and improving patient outcomes.”

“Specialty pharmacy accreditation demonstrates a seal of quality ensuring pharmacy operations and patient management services adhere to the highest set of standards,” said Nicole Faucher, MS, Clearway Health President. “Earning accreditation represents a health system’s commitment to offer the highest quality pharmacy services to their patients. Clearway Health’s partnership with ACHC reinforces our commitment to specialty pharmacy excellence through programs that deliver disease-state specific clinical assessments, patient compliance, and medication adherence. Together, we look forward to providing a seamless, successful accreditation process for our health system partners.”

The partnership gives Clearway Health customers special pricing on ACHC Pharmacy Accreditation for specialty and infusion services. Discounts on select ACHCU educational resources are also available.

About Clearway Health

Clearway Health’s specialty pharmacy services create sustainable assets and build lasting legacies for hospitals and health systems, providing a service that every patient deserves. We began at Boston Medical Center Health System, improving access to care and managing the complex medication needs of vulnerable patient populations. Equipped with this unique experience to solve challenges, Clearway Health partners with other hospitals and health systems to provide transformative specialty pharmacy services that put patients first. We build and strengthen the infrastructure for specialty pharmacy programs including operational workflows, clinical programs, hiring and embedding skilled pharmacists and patient liaisons into the clinical team, providing proprietary software technology, unlocking drug access and leading accreditation processes. We deliver a clinically driven service that eliminates barriers to medication access, improves the health of patients and communities, grows revenue at healthy margins for health systems and reduces costs for patients.
