ACHC Empowers Health Care Professionals with Individual Certification Program

Training provides extended education, professional development, underpins commitment to innovation

CARY, N.C. (November 8, 2024) – This month, health care professionals will have the opportunity to enhance their expertise through Accreditation Commission for Health Care (ACHC) Certified Accreditation Professional \(CAP\) training. Designed to provide individual professionals with deeper knowledge in specified areas, including Durable Medical Equipment, Prosthetics, Orthotics and Supplies (DMEPOS), hospice and specialty pharmacy, CAP training through ACHCU, the education branch of ACHC, solidifies mastery of knowledge related to accreditation requirements, creating a solid framework for organizational improvement and quality patient care.

“This targeted training equips individuals with advanced knowledge and skills, enhancing their professional impact while simultaneously contributing valuable merit to their affiliated organizations,” said Greg Stowell, ACHC director of education and training. “With the growing demand for skillful coordination of accreditation requirements across an organization, we’re proud to offer certification to those professionals dedicated to going above and beyond.”

In November, ACHC will be offering three one-day, live virtual CAP training sessions:

- DMEPOS – 12:30-5 p.m. ET Tuesday, November 19, 2024. Includes a prerecorded webinar to watch before the live event.
- Hospice – 10:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. ET Wednesday, November 20, 2024. Nursing contact hours are available.
- Specialty Pharmacy – 11:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. ET Thursday, November 21, 2024.

Offered exclusively for select ACHC accreditation offerings, CAP training requires participants to successfully complete the course and pass a rigorous exam for the relevant program. Individual certification is valid for three years and is renewable, and continuing education credits are available for designated programs.
