ACHC Partners With Surglogs

CARY, N.C. – Accreditation Commission for Health Care (ACHC) today announced its partnership with Surglogs, a leading digital compliance platform for healthcare facilities. This partnership enables the integration of ACHC Standards into Surglogs’ digital compliance platform. ACHC and Surglogs are committed to making compliance stress-free and establishing a reliable path to successful surveys.

“This collaboration emphasizes a community-driven approach, allowing ASCs to focus on patient care and safety while ensuring compliance with regulatory standards,” said Patrick Horine, ACHC Vice President of Acute Care Services.

Jakub Jašák, Chief Technology Officer for Surglogs, said, “Our goal is to make compliance stress-free. ACHC member facilities now have access to our latest Standards and Policies management features, enabling them to view ACHC Standards directly within our platform, map or easily generate their policies, attach supporting evidence, and receive clear guidelines. Facilities can rest assured they’ll be notified of any potential gaps, ensuring they’re always survey-ready.”

About Surglogs

Surglogs, the ultimate regulatory and accreditation platform, empowers healthcare facilities to consistently uphold health and safety compliance standards. The platform automates the entire process of policy and procedure development, digital workflow creation, and evidence collection, all while continually enhancing the quality of care.
