ACHC and ProTek Partner to Support DME Providers

CARY, N.C. –National accreditor Accreditation Commission for Health Care (ACHC) announced today it is partnering with ProTek, a leading provider of insurance solutions for companies that manufacture, sell, or service durable medical equipment.

“ACHC and ProTek are mutually dedicated to supporting the DME industry,” said Deborah Panza, ACHC Associate Program Director. “While accreditation confirms compliance with recognized quality and safety standards, ProTek’s specialized insurance solutions help organizations ensure they have the proper insurance coverage to protect and sustain their business.”

The partnership gives ProTek clients special pricing on ACHC DME Accreditation. Discounts on select ACHCU educational resources are also available.

“We’re pleased to enter into a partnership with ACHC as we advance our risk solutions for home-use DME settings,” said Dan Schneider, Vice President of ProTek, Totalis Program Underwriters. “The partnership will be mutually beneficial to accredited provider clients and prospects of both organizations, who will earn specific consideration in the design, delivery, and cost of accreditation and insurance services.”

About ProTek

ProTek provides customized insurance solutions to help companies that manufacture, sell, or service medical equipment mitigate risks and manage costs. Clients rely on ProTek’s specialized expertise to navigate the industry’s complexities, better understand coverage options, and make informed decisions to protect their businesses.

With more than three decades of experience in the medical device space, ProTek has recently expanded its program eligibility to include durable medical equipment providers (DME sector) in home health settings. ProTek recognizes that companies accredited by ACHC typically implement effective risk management practices, which are considered favorably in ProTek’s underwriting and pricing approach.

ProTek offers a variety of solutions, including general and professional liability insurance and a portfolio of complementary coverages.
