ACHC and KanTime Form New Partnership

CARY, N.C. – Leading accreditor Accreditation Commission for Health Care (ACHC) announced today it is partnering with KanTime, a top provider of electronic medical record solutions for in-home care providers.

"ACHC and KanTime are dedicated to enhancing patient care and services," said Susan Mills, ACHC Senior Program Director. "Our partnership underscores our shared commitment to helping home-based care agencies maintain compliance and optimize operations to drive continuous improvement."

"We are thrilled to partner with ACHC to bring even greater value to our healthcare clients," said Sundar Kannan, KanTime CEO. "This collaboration aligns with our mission to enhance patient care by providing the best EMR solutions and the highest standards of accreditation and education. Together, we are committed to supporting healthcare providers in their journey to excellence."

This new partnership allows KanTime customers to receive preferred pricing on ACHC Accreditation for home health, hospice, and home care/private duty services. Discounts are also available on select resources offered by ACHCU, the education division of ACHC.

About KanTime

KanTime is an innovative EMR software provider specializing in home-based health care. The cloud-based platform empowers agencies with intuitive solutions that optimize workflows, ensure regulatory compliance, and improve patient outcomes.

KanTime Healthcare Software has been awarded ACHC Product Certification, which confirms KanTime products meet all seven sections of ACHC Standards: administration, operations, fiscal management, human resources, provision of care and record management, quality, and risk management.
