ACHC and Preferred Care at Home Partner to Support Agencies

CARY, N.C. – Leading accreditor Accreditation Commission for Health Care (ACHC) announced today it is partnering with Preferred Care at Home, a national franchiser of home care agencies that supports independent living for older adults.

“ACHC and Preferred Care at Home share a common interest in elevating quality of home care services,” said Susan Mills, ACHC Senior Program Director. “Preferred Care at Home is dedicated to helping older adults live independently at home. By achieving accreditation, home care agencies confirm their commitment to excellence in providing personalized, next-level care.”

“With ACHC, we're happy to have a trusted and experienced partner to guide our home care franchises through the accreditation process,” said Ashly Luckose, General Counsel, Preferred Care at Home.

This new strategic partnership allows Preferred Care at Home franchisees to receive discounts on ACHC Accreditation for home care/private duty services. Discounts are also available on select resources offered by ACHCU, the education division of ACHC.
