ACHC Partners With Vastian to Streamline Accreditation for Labs and Hospitals

CARY, N.C. – The Accreditation Commission for Health Care (ACHC) has partnered with Vastian, a leading provider of hospital and laboratory accreditation solutions. This collaboration empowers clinical laboratories, acute care hospitals, and critical access hospitals accredited through ACHC to automate accreditation task management for a more streamlined accreditation experience.

Through integration with Vastian's Readiness platform, ACHC customers can more easily access standards and stay up to date with current standard requirements, upload evidence of compliance, and track survey preparedness in real time. The embedding of ACHC standards in Readiness helps reduce the administrative burden of manual compliance tracking while promoting a culture of organization-wide accountability, continuous improvement, and survey preparedness.

"Partnering with ACHC allows Vastian to bring laboratories and hospitals an added layer of confidence," said Michelle Hilburn, MSN, RN, CPHQ, CPPS, AVP of Quality, Compliance & Standards at Vastian. "Together, we will help healthcare organizations meet rigorous standards for safety, quality, and regulatory compliance, and empower them to deliver care with greater assurance."

"Thanks to our new partnership with Vastian, ACHC customers can now automate many compliance tasks within this application," said Patrick Horine, Vice President of Acute Care at ACHC. "We believe Readiness will help streamline the accreditation process and increase survey preparedness in Clinical Laboratories and Hospitals."
