ACHC Partners with Minnesota Home Care Association (MHCA)

CARY, N.C. – Leading accreditor Accreditation Commission for Health Care (ACHC) announced today a new partnership with the Minnesota Home Care Association (MHCA), a nonprofit trade association representing home care providers across Minnesota.

“Providers don’t need more complexity—they need clear, practical support,” said Susan Mills, ACHC Senior Program Director. “This partnership helps MHCA members access accreditation and education in a way that fits into how they’re actually operating day to day.”

“We are proud to partner with ACHC, an internationally respected accrediting body that shares our commitment to quality, education, and service, said Kathy Messerli, MHCA Executive Director. “This collaboration not only supports high standards in patient care but also delivers meaningful value to our members through significant accreditation cost savings.”

Through this collaboration, MHCA members will receive preferred pricing on ACHC Home Care Accreditation, along with discounts on select resources offered by ACHCU, the educational division of ACHC.

Eligible MHCA members can receive discounted ACHC Home Care Accreditation and $50 off ACHCU educational offerings using the partnership discount code MHCA26. These resources are designed to help providers navigate regulatory requirements, prepare for surveys, and build sustainable, high-quality home care programs.
