ACHC & Michigan HomeCare & Hospice Association Renew Partnership

CARY, N.C. – Accreditation Commission for Health Care (ACHC), a leading nonprofit healthcare accreditor, has renewed its partnership with the Michigan HomeCare & Hospice Association (MHHA) to continue supporting home-based care providers through education, resources, and preferred accreditation pricing.

“Partnerships like this one extend ACHC’s mission to help providers succeed beyond accreditation,” said Susan Mills, ACHC Senior Program Director. “By renewing our work with MHHA, we’re continuing to empower agencies with the tools, education, and support they need to navigate regulatory changes and deliver exceptional care in the home.”

“We’re proud to partner with ACHC to offer our members meaningful savings on accreditation and education,” said Laura Haynes, MHHA President and CEO. “This collaboration supports our mission to strengthen care at home by making high-quality standards more accessible and affordable.”

Through this renewed partnership, MHHA members will receive $500 off ACHC Accreditation for Home Health, Home Care, Hospice, and Home Infusion Therapy programs, plus $50 off select ACHCU workshops and workbooks.

MHHA members are also eligible for preferred pricing on ACHC DMEPOS Accreditation, including a $150 discount for a one-year accreditation cycle and a $500 discount for a three-year accreditation cycle.

About Michigan HomeCare & Hospice Association
